

VII Edition of the José Antonio García Domínguez Prizes

Sponsored by BRUKER

The José Antonio García Domínguez Prizes are designed to recognize the scientific merit of both oral and poster communications on Chromatography and Related Techniques, presented by young researchers in the 28th International Symposium on Chromatography, which will be held in Valencia (September 12-16, 2010).

In this edition, the prizes will consist of:

- Prize to the best oral communication (1000 euros)
- Prize to the second best oral communication (500 euros)
- Prize to the best poster (400 euros)
- Prize to the second best poster (200 euros)

Bases of the prizes:

- 1) The awards will be given to young researchers (Bachelors and PhD). The Organizing Committee (CO) considers that young researchers are those Bachelor graduates who obtained their degree less than three years ago. For PhD graduates this term is extended to five years.
- 2) In order to qualify for one of the prizes, the authors will have to communicate it (by email to yolanda.pico@uv.es) indicating the title of the communication and the authors.
- 3) The jury will be composed by members of the scientific committee. Information from experts on specific topics may be requested if needed.
- 4) All papers submitted for award qualification, either in oral communications or posters, will have to be in English. 5) The candidates to prizes for oral communications will have to send one written summary of their presentation to the Chairwoman of the organizing committee (5 DIN-A4 pages of text in addition to figures and tables), before July 15, 2010 (by e-mail and in pdf format; yolanda.pico@uv.es)."
- 6) The candidates to prizes for posters will have to send one copy of the poster to the Chairwoman of the organizing committee (DIN A-4 size), before July 15, 2009 (by e-mail and in pdf format; yolanda.pico@uv.es)."
- 7) Notice of the awarded papers will be reported at the closing ceremony.
